23 New Developments Hitting the Market This Spring

Tuesday, April 9, 2013, by Sara Polsky

The real estate market tends to heat up come spring right along with the weather. For anyone out hunting for a condo or rental, there are a few new development offerings to choose from. We've compiled a map of projects that are set to hit the market this spring, plus a few that appeared on market in the first quarter. Know of one we've missed? Please share in the comments or with the tipline, and we'll add it to the map. Happy hunting to all.

THE SCHUMACHER

36 Blecker Street, home of the Schumacher & Ettinger printing company starting in the 1860s, is getting converted to lofts. Twenty of them, in fact, two- to four-bedrooms in size, $3 million to $25 million in price. Architect Morris Adjmi is handling the restoration (hidden under netting right now), and the project should hit the market later this season.
